Emily Stovall from the Bernalillo Visitors Center will discuss with us the possibility of a show in April at the Center. They have not shown art before so there are details to iron out. Please come to this meeting so we make a good impression.

Please mail your $25 for 2018 dues to:
Susan Pine
909 Tijeras NW, Apt 121
Albuquerque, NM 87102

The Visitor Center is located in the El Zocalo Plaza. With its thick adobe walls and brick floors warmly refurbished, the 1874 convent is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The courtyard outside, with its fountains and grassy areas, provides a focal point for the building and a great space for special

Plant Peace

Plant peace

*Here in this frozen ground,
Hidden beneath the sheltering snow.*

Plant peace

*In the reluctant winter sunlight,
Where rising winds
And chilling temperatures*

Defy new life.

Still plant peace.

Plant peace,

*You gardener of souls,
Husbanding them*

*Through the darkness of a Solstice night,
Where promises hold our hope,
And the certainty that the light*

Will not go out,

That new life will be reborn.

*Plant peace deep
In the very season
That denies life.*

Plant peace.

*In every season
Plant peace.*

WOMEN MAKING ART SINCE 1990

WWW.RAINBOWARTISTS.COM

Opens This Friday at the Vortex Lysistrata: A Woman's Translation

Director Bridget S. Dunne says, "This play is funny, as you probably know. VERY funny. Underneath that humor, though, is a powerful story of regular women standing up for what they believe in and taking control of a situation that is simply unacceptable. These women aren't famous, they're not soldiers or politicians; they are wives, mothers, sisters, HUMANS, who have decided they won't tolerate the waste and death that they've had to live with for too long. Lysistrata comes up with this plan, yes, but she can't do it alone. It takes a force of many to shake things up and make the men realize that there's more to life than war."

February 8-March 3, Fri-Sat 7:30pm; Sun 2pm.
Tickets: $24.
