Program: Design & Fantasy Florals

Roberta Delgado will be talking about a remarkable breakthrough in art education that was developed by Adolfo Best Maguard in Mexico. In the early decades of the 20th century, with the help of highly acclaimed artists as Diego Rivera and Miguel Covarubias. This method revolutionized art and art education in Mexico eventually exerting a strong influence on art education worldwide. Best Maguard wrote a book called A Method for Creative Design (1926), where untrained artists were able to master the basics of design by combining and arranging any two of the Archetypal Seven Elements: a spiral, circle, half circle, two half circles in the form of the letter S, wavy line, zigzag line and straight line. Through his writing the author probed the inner workings of creative imagination and the forces that affect and control the creative process.

We will experiment with the different elements of design to draw and create fantasy florals. Bring Colored pencils, alcohol inks or any art media. More examples will be available.

Alcohol inks on transparency with reverse details in sharpie and white gel pens.

Rainbow Business

Rainbow's bank balance is $3,074.50.

Roberta Delgado and Linda Allison have stepped up to fill the first two quarterly facilitator spots, taking us through December. Responsibilities include facilitating meetings and arranging for the programs. Thank you!

Eliza Schmid and Angela Storch are the first two volunteers for the Exhibition Committee. We still need a couple more people for this very important function. While all members are encouraged to look for exhibition possibilities and can help with or coordinate any show, we need a standing committee to make sure there is publicity and that all bases are covered including decisions on expenditures, receptions and hanging fees (if any). Intake of art, hanging (if done by Rainbow) and taking down of exhibitions is included. Members tell us what they value most is our exhibits ... help make sure we can continue them.

Share our Facebook page with your friends. The more views, the more exposure your art has.
